Dietz's Diamond Oil.

WE NOW OFFER TO THE PUBLIC in fair trial our new article of KEROSENE OIL,
Which we warrant to be Superior to any other Oil ever brought to this market, and which we believe will give entire satisfaction to all who will use it.

More Light and Burn Longer than any other Oil in use.

Among the many advantages of this KEROSENE OIL over the old is: First that it is perfectly NON-EXPLOSIVE and can be used with perfect safety in all kinds of LAMPS. Second, it is free from all offensive smells and burns with a clear white flame of pleasant smell and leaves no residuum in the burner. We confidently submit it to the FAMILIES of this City and Territory, and if found it will gain a preference over all other Oils for economy as well as its superior burning qualities.

In order to protect ourselves against Counterfeits we have placed a brand on each can and case which will be known as

DIETZ'S DIAMOND OIL.

It is now offered at wholesale and retail at 505 Front street,
Between Washington and Salmon streets,
And at our Branch Store, 76 Second street,
21 Doors from Mission, San Francisco.

THURSDAY MORNING JULY 3 1862

Captain Boggs, Late of the Shubrick

Many of our citizens are acquainted with Capt Boggs. For some time he commanded the U S steamer Shubrick, which was employed to look after the light houses on this Coast. Sometime ago he was ordered East and we find that he commanded a steamer belonging to the New Orleans expedition — How effectively he worked that vessel is given in his modest account of the affair to Com Farragut. He said

I have the honor to report that after passing the batteries, with the steamer Varuna under my command, on the morning of the 24th, finding my vessel amid a fleet of rebel steamers, I started ahead delivering broadsides both starboard and port at every one that I passed. The first on her starboard bow I found that received her fire appeared to be loaded with troops. Her boiler was exploded and she drifted to the shore. In like manner three other vessels, one of them a gunboat, were driven on shore in flames, and afterwards blew up. At six o'clock, A M, the Varuna was attacked by the Morgan, a ram, dashing for the bow, commanded by Beverly Kennon an ex-naval officer. This vessel raked us along the port gangway, killing him and wounding many of the crew. Putting the Varuna on the quarter and again on the starboard side, I managed to get three eight inch shell into her shaft her armor, as also several shot from the rifled after gun, when she dropped out of action, partially disabled. While still engaged with her, another rebel steamer iron-clad, and with a prow under water struck us in the port gangway doing considerable damage. Our shot glancing from her bow, she backed off for another blow, and struck again in the same place crushing in the side, but by going ahead fast this concussion drew her bow around and I was able, with the port guns, to give her, while close alongside, five eight inch shell abaft her armor. This settled her and drove her ashore in flames. Finding the Varuna sinking I run her into the bank, let go the anchors and tied her up to the trees. During all the time the guns were actively at work erippling the Morgan, she making feeble efforts to get up steam. This fire was kept up until the water was over the gun trucks, when I turned my attention to getting the wounded and crew out of the vessel. The Oneida, Captain Lee, seeing the condition of the Varuna, had rushed to her assistance, but I waved her off until the Morgan surrendered to her, the vessel in flames. I have since learned that over fifty of his crew were killed and wounded, and she was set on fire by her commander, who burned his wounded with his vessel.

I cannot award too much praise to the officers and crew of the Varuna for the noble manner in which they supported me and their coolness under such exciting circumstances, particularly when extinguishing fire having been set on fire twice during the action by shell. In fifteen minutes from the time the Varuna was struck she was on the bottom, with only her topgallant forecastle out of water. The officers and crew lost every thing they possessed.

ARRIVAL OF JULIA.—The Julia arrived as usual last evening, from the Columbia bringing some 70 passengers, but no dust except what was in hands of passengers, as the Express failed to connect beyond the Dalles.—Company "C," Oregon Cavalry, Capt Kelly, commanding, arrived, on their way to Camp Baker. A large brass gun and caisson was brought over from Vancouver, to be used in firing a salute on Fourth of July. Company "B," 1st W T Infantry, are expected to arrive to-day on steamer Lancaster, en route for Fort Hoskins.

We are indebted to Wells, Fargo & Co., for copy of the Dalles Mountaineer.

NOT THE MAN.—Mr Jas M Partlow, of Oregon City, stated to us yesterday that he saw Col T Vault in Lewiston on the 22d of June, and that he had on light colored clothes. From this it would appear that the body of a drowned man found at Coutts what day before yesterday, was not that of Col T Vault. The supposition now is that it was a man known as "Texas Smith," and is the unfortunate friend of Col T Vault, which may account for the papers found on his person.

DEMOCRACY THAT SUITS.—We have been accustomed lately to hear much lauding from secesh papers, of the great Democratic triumph at the Chicago City election. Well, Francis Sherman has been inaugurated as Mayor. In his Inaugural Address he said:

"Fortunately for the country and for the cause of free government throughout the world, the Administration of Mr Lincoln is vindicated itself PATRIOTIC, CONSERVATIVE AND JUST.

That is precisely the Democracy that we like.

MOBILE.—A dispatch to the San Francisco Call, dated St Louis June 9, 1862:

"The Federal fleet sent against Mobile has attacked Port Morgan. It passed the lower battery without engaging it."

The Policy of Government in this War

We use the sentiments thus expressed by Senator Wade in the Senate of the United States. No court has the right to limit the powers that a man may use in defense of his own life when assaulted, and so no statesman will attempt to limit the power that a nation may use when the life of the nation is assailed. There is no limit to it. You have a right to go forward in an individual case in your own right, and if your life is sought, any force any power, anything that you may do honestly in defense of your own life, the law pronounces a justifiable act. So when the life of the nation is assailed by vile traitors, enabled in military array for its destruction they are beyond all law, and the nation in defense of its Constitution, its Union and its flag may resort to any means that God Almighty has put into their hands honestly to maintain their constitutional rights. I know very well that small lawyers may get up on these great questions of statesmanship and peddle, as a man would to screen a fraud before a Justice of the Peace, and place his arguments on those narrow principles of constitutional law. He may require all the presumptions of innocence that are so often resorted to to shield a culprit from the punishment of his crime. It is done here. But, so the man whose life is assailed does not murder, slay, and the nation whose life is assailed by traitors need not summon a jury. All you want is the power honestly exercised to put it down. * * * * * * I am tired of hearing arguments in favor of traitors. The Constitution takes their lives, their property, their all. Why shall we stop short? Do they not in quest of our's? If there is any scum on the present Administration, it is that they have been weak enough to deal too leniently with these traitors. I know it sprung from goodness of heart—it sprung from the best of motives, but, as a method of putting down this rebellion, mercy to traitors is cruelty to loyal men. Look into the seceded States and see thousands of loyal men there coerced into their armies to run the hazard of their lives and placed in the miserable position of prepared traitors before our arms. If there is a man there bold enough to maintain his integrity in the face of these infernal powers, do they scruple to take his life, his property, his all? By our mercital course, we have paid a premium to treason, and made it almost impossible that a loyal man in the seceded States can maintain himself at all. Those States are overrun frequently by lawless bands of rebels, who do not scruple to take their property and their lives, and treat them with every indignity and every cruelty that a perverse ingenuity can invent, but on the other hand, when our armies come along there they deal quite as leniently with the traitor as with the loyal man. What teaches human nature? A man having solely a regard to his self-interest, living in one of those communities, will undoubtedly reason thus: 'I must profess to be a traitor, I must co-operate with them, for if these rebel hands overrun the country I inhabit, if I show any Union sentiment, any love for the Constitution and the old flag, I shall lose not only my life, but my property, and all I have.' This rule is as impolitic as it is unjust. You should carry the avenging sword along with your armies, and smite treason and put it down, and yield protection to honest, loyal men. Until you adopt that course you will war in vain. For one, I say let us go forward against treason and traitors, let us put down this rebellion at all hazards. If it must come to this, that the Union and slavery cannot live together, let slavery die the death, for the Constitution, the Union, and the time honored old flag shall live forever!

OFFICE SEEKERS.—The following is the "Dixie Ticket" recently nominated by the "unterrified-peace-democracy" of Clarke county, W T. We are personally acquainted with nearly all of these gentlemen, and can cheerfully say that perhaps a better selection could not have been made from the ranks of that party. but as they represent what we believe to be a dangerous policy at this time we cannot but hope that each and all may be defeated by the still better Union ticket. Therein and cannot otherwise be but two parties in existence in the loyal States of this nation one that supports the Government and the Administration in the great work of suppressing rebellion and crushing out treason and the other which can be most properly termed the opposition party, or the party that opposes either directly or indirectly these measures. One party supports the most holy cause of preserving the Union and enforcing the laws by compelling obedience to the expressed will of the majority of legal voters of the nation, while the other favors rebellion and secession on the part of the minority, simply because they cannot rule. Choose ye between—support whom ye will serve. If it be Union, peace, if it be disunion, say so.

For Lieutenant, Thomas H Smith. Representatives, Jay D Potter, T J Fletcher, Wm Barton. Prosecuting Attorney 2d Judicial District, H C Struve. Probate Judge, A J Lawrence. Auditor P A Hern. County Commissioner, Wm Dillon. Sheriff, John Ault. Treasurer, Joseph Pottratz. Assessor, J Briggs.

It is said to be well known in Vancouver that several persons on the Democratic County ticket are known to be Jeff Davis men and have loudly rejoiced at secession victories and it is equally well known that some men holding office under Government are those supporters. Whose fault is this?

ANOTHER DROWNED MAN.—We learn that the steamer Cowlitz picked up the body of a drowned man in the Columbia river, yesterday, while on her way up from Monticello. The corpse had evidently lain in the water for many days, and was so much decomposed as to render recognition impossible.

Details of News by Telegraph

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The Pacific Railroad bill passed the House to-day by a vote of 104 to 1.

A negro jailer for murdering the whites of Okolona, Monroe county, Mississippi, on June 18th was discovered in time to be frustrated.

The Memphis Appeal of June 19th says: The Federals in considerable force took possession of Holly Springs, Mississippi, night before last. The rebel Provost Marshal was among the prisoners taken.

The advance of the Federals from Bolivar, Tenn, was gradually checked at Tillapaho, Arkansas, by hour yesterday morning the advance Federals as they neared the town, encountered the Confederate pickets who sharp skirmished each retiring until the pickets of the Federals. One less was killed. The enemy lost several killed and wounded. The two sides were commanded respectively by Colonel Coates of Ohio and Captain Wham of Texas. When the former retreated our men crossed the river to the main body and the fight was closed.

A letter from New Orleans dated the 11th, says General Butler, in reply to a letter from General Williams at Baton Rouge asking the course to pursue in regard to arrests, says they should be tried by disinterested men and if found guilty of destroying property destroy their houses by fire and every means taken to secure that they are enemies to the human race, not Turks, but murderers and land pirates.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A letter to the Tribune says General Fremont has removed General Blenker from command. Carl Schurz has been appointed to succeed him.

FORTRESS, June 22.—Friday evening as several Confederates were returning from the Court to their delegates five of them were killed by Secession guerrillas in ambush near Berry's station. A fight was immediately started between our and other parties. The capture of the Confederates was considered certain.

MEMPHIS, June 23.—General Stock has issued a proclamation inviting the people of the interior to come into the city and procure supplies for necessary wants and assuring them of the protection of the Federal Government in the legitimate pursuance of their business. The criminals of the police force and other officials took the oath of fidelity.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A Fortress Monroe letter to the Philadelphia Press says: A member of the Governor's Guard of Richmond captured on the 19th states that Beauregard is second in command at Richmond, and a number of his troops had arrived.

The Wheeling Intelligencer of the 21st says: Soldiers recently from General Fremont, say he will fortify Mount Jackson and endeavor to hold the position although he has no doubt that Jackson has been largely reinforced.—Fremont is not thought to be in danger.

Foreign News.

European dates are to the 11th of June.

The steamer Columbia left Plymouth for Nassau with warlike stores believed to be for the Confederates. Two other steamers had also arrived at Plymouth, believed to be intended for the same destination.

The brig Lizzie from Charleston, reached Liverpool with a cargo of rosin and turpentine. She left Charleston in company with seven other vessels.

The Times regards the defeat of Banks as one of the most important successes of the Confederates, on account of the lesson it teaches the North—showing that effort greater than any that have gone before must be made if over the border is to be won back to the Union. All hopes of an early solution must be dispelled and meantime, increasing debts and mutual animosity tend to make a new Union more and more impracticable.

The Paris journal announces that it has been decided to send reinforcements to Mexico but not till October.

At Rome the celebration commemorative of the Japanese martyrs was magnificent and entirely. The Bishops in addresses to the Pope, deplore the oppression of the Church, and declare temporal powers necessary for the independence of the Pope. They approve all the Pope has done, and entreat him to remain firm in resistance. The Pope in his allocution, deplored the spread of the revolutionary spirit and the oppression of the Church and efforts against temporal powers. The Bishops will redouble their efforts for arresting the enemies of the Church.

In the House of Commons, on the 13th Lord Palmerston said, in answer to a question that a communication had been received from the French Government on the subject of mediation in America, and the British Government had no intention at present to offer mediation.

The London Daily News argues against intervention in America, and contends that England has good reason for not wishing to see carried out the intervention policy of Napoleon.

The Paris gives a rumor of approximations for a joint offer of mediation by France and England.

The London Times editorially approves of mediation, and says that England ought not to look calmly on. Blanches of manufactures be dyed, a more important question—that of the recognition of the Confederates—may have to be considered. The Times' City news of trade is fair, no effect on the Liverpool cotton market.

MURDER BY INDIANS.—A telegraphic dispatch from Chico, Butte county, California, to the Sacramento Union says that Hugh Allen, a pioneer of 1849, living on Mud Creek was killed and scalped by Indians on the afternoon of June 7th, on his way home from Marysville. Five females he was driving ahead of him escaped. Another man of his party in company with Allen was shot and badly wounded in the arm, but escaped. Through the news to the valley three children belonging to a family named Hitchcock, near where the murder was perpetrated, were captured by Indians who are probably the same who have been committing depredations in Butte creek. The children were seen with the Indians. A party who went in pursuit had found the body of a child which they were taking and also found evidences of a struggle of the two children killed by the Indians as they were driven away by the approaching party. Mr Hitchcock and family were to have left the next day for Marysville.

ORNING OREGONIAN has a larger CRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

ILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Store, and at Clarke's Barber Shop, Front street.

OUT.—A little bit of a fight occurred on street, yesterday between two promi individuals, in consequence of an article terday morning's Oregonian, relative to ng of firemen of the city to agree upon blic celebration of the Fourth of July. re sorry to say that a bitter, hostile feel is fast engendering between certain mem of the different fire companies of the city we fear may result in serious conse s. We would urge upon all parties the iety and more genteel course of keeping and quiet, and hope for the sake of the name which each and all have heretofore ined, that no further disgraceful actions result from so trivial a matter. We sin y trust that the sober, sensible, manly, we might very appropriately say, rude eal course, be adopted of letting all who to celebrate the Fourth do so in any ropriate and legal manner that they may proper, while those who do not wish articipate in such demonstrations shall equal privilege of doing as they please hope that each and all may agree to let and all enjoy the Fourth in their own without even so much as a criticism their action.

KEY.—It has been proposed by certain ested individuals that a key should be lished by which the readers of the Idaer could interpret the leading articles in paper. We deem it unnecessary, as Mc nick's Jargon Dictionary will answer the pose admirably.

OOK OUT!—The tax gatherer is around, he is to be dreaded about as much as that old gentleman who goes about with his ing scythe seeking whom he may next de . We have frequently heard it said that was nothing sure but "death and the ;" hence, we would warn our friends prepared for both, as each will surely us all, sooner or later.

OST.—The sum of fifty cents was lost last ing in a saloon up town, and certain prom parties are suspected of having a knowl of where it went to. All we know of circumstances is, that a friend treated us very good cigar.

The last News.

e following from the Sacramento Union ne 26th is an explanation of our special leb published on Tuesday.

e continental telegraph having been pu working order last evening, we received mber of dispatches of dates ranging from 16th to the 25th, which require sifting and ysing to render them intelligible. McClel supporters to have remained in position be Richmond ever since the great battle of Oaks. We can only explain this pro ted delay by assuming, as we did a month , that the commanding General cares less the capture of a city than for the preven of the escape of the great body of the reb from Virginia. He will need heavy rein cements to complete the line he has been wing around the main army of the enemy, these are to be obtained chiefly from the solid force at the disposal of Halleck from the Western Department we receive s that Halleck's work has been virtually pleted. Beauregard we last heard from Montgomery, Alabama, en route for Rich d, with a portion of the baffled army of nthians. Vicksburg, Mississippi, was still the hands of the rebels on the 17th, but the tar fleet, the gunboats and a land force approaching for a combined attack, and fate of the last stronghold of the enemy in Mississippi valley could not be doubtful. archives of Mississippi had been removed Jackson to Columbus, near the Alabama , and Lovell had taken a position at Meri a railroad junction in the same vicinity. the fact that Union troops had occupied Springs, on the Central railroad, we that Halleck has distributed strong es of troops from Chattanooga to Mem to prevent any attempt of the enemy to back into Tennessee, and that he has in meantime, sent reinforcements to Virginia a ile had not been attacked at the last ad ces. The mortar fleet had been recalled at sburg. The Alabama seaport would ceive attention as soon as the force could be ared.

hrough rebel sources we get stirring news Charleston. A severe battle is stated to occurred on James Island, within four of the city, on the 16th inst. The gun had probably found the Whoppo Cut, ail leads from Stono Inlet to Ashley river, practicable, and Hunter doubtless on his to get within shelling distance of the city an advance toward the river across the isl . This movement was resisted by the reb Palmettos under General Gist. Of course Charleston papers claim the victory, but Mercury, Rhett's organ, intimates that the federates were exhausted by their previous rts, and expresses a fear that if the attack renewed the "city will fall."

Among the items of foreign news the post announcement in the British House of mons that Louis Napoleon had proposed intervene in our domestic quarrel is the important. England through Palmers ish papers, with the exception of the Da News, are more absurd and insolent than in their comments upon American affairs.

Notice No. 1.—Regular Monthly Meeting of ny this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock. By order RICH'D B KNAPP Sec'y. July 31, 1862.

From the Upper Columbia and the Mines

From the Dalles Mountaineer we take the following items:

Business has been resumed at the Dalles. Main street is free from water except at the lower end. The buildings are generally uninjured, with the exception of Bolan's store building, which are considerably wrecked.

Horses selling at $16 and $18. Bacon 20c, beans, 12½ and 15c; coffee 20 and 25c.

A grand exhibition of the works will take place at the Dalles on the 4th.

Two hundred thousand dollars in dust was received at the Dalles on Saturday last from the upper country.

James C. Hazard, on his way from California across the mountains, found four valuable horses, for which he desires to find an owner. They are fine American horses, two of them very heavy work animals. One of them is a chesnut, and the remaining three are bays.

Private advices received from Washington state that the Commissioner of the General Land Office has determined to sustain the decision of the Surveyor General of Oregon rejecting the Methodist Mission claim to the land covered by the town of Dalles.

John Queburg, of San Francisco, a carpenter by trade, was drowned in Pine tree rapids, Snake river, on the 2d of June.

POWDER RIVER.—From a letter dated Auburn June 17th we make the following extract: "The diggings are ten times better than we ever anticipated. Some claims yield as high as 164 ounces per day to the sluice of three hands. Every claim that is opened and worked with energy yields above $10 per day to the hand. Ground has been prospected sufficient for ten thousand miners. Such as Powder river diggings, sure!"

Parties were beginning to arrive from California, having with them large bands of stock. One gentleman had come through with five hundred head all in good condition.

On the 2d of June a miner was shot for attempting to cross a toll bridge free of charge, the bridge having been built by felling trees across Powder river, by a party of men on their way to the mines. The man who owned the bridge had paid the rest of the party $200 for their share, and remained there to collect toll from travelers—he considering it his private property. A day or two afterwards a number of Californians came up and wished to cross over without paying for it. The owner would not consent to this, and one of them started to go over any how, when the toll-man shot him through the neck, killing him instantly. The murderer was arrested and taken before a miners jury for trial, and if found guilty will undoubtedly be hung.

Chesterfield Tactics.

The clever correspondent of the Home Guard says From the fact that the usual mode of giving command by military officers falls so harshly upon the ears of sensitive privates, the following style has been attached to a regiment of 'Reserved Grays," and is appropriately termed the Chesterfield Manual.

BY COMMANDING OFFICER

1 Gentlemen, you will please give me your attention!

2 You will be kind enough to cast your head and eyes to the right, and endeavor to observe the "immaculate bosom' of the third gentleman from you

3 Oblige me now by casting your visual organs to the front!

4 Allow me to suggest the propriety of coming to an order arms

5 Gentlemen, will you condescend to shoulder arms?

6 You will confer a special favor by coming to a support

7 If it meets your approbation, I beg leave to propose that you carry arms

8 Now, gentlemen, you will please present arms.

9 I shall consider myself under an everlasting obligation if you will once more oblige me by carrying arms

10 Having a just and high appreciation of your intrinsic worth, as well as your exalted position in society, I humbly trust that I am not infringing upon your good nature when I request you to trail arms

11. Gentlemen, for the last time, permit me to remark that it is my earnest desire that you should come to a shoulder arms

12 If it is not too laborious, I should be delighted to see you change your position by coming to a right face

13 To conclude your arduous exercises, I will still further trespass upon your well-known affability by requesting you to come to arms port!

14. Gentlemen! soldiers! blood stained heroes! if congenial to your feelings, you may consider yourselves dismissed I beg to remark, however, that should it suit your convenience, you will be kind enough to hold yourselves subject to be called again into line, which you will be made aware of by the repeated tapping of the "spirit stirring drum," recollecting, at the same time, that the first vibrations of that sweet instrument that strike the tympanum of your ears, is merely precautionary Allow me to exclaim, in stentorian voice Sever the ranks! march!

VIRTUE OF PRAYER —The most remarkable instance of prayer happened in the case of Gov Tod, as related by himself in an address he made lately to the Briar Hill miners, on the occasion of leaving Briar Hill to prepare for assuming the chair of State Mr Tod said "In the spring of 1847, when about to leave home in the service of the national government, you met me on this spot and gave me your prayers and good wishes for the safe return of myself and family, and I have felt that to these prayers and good wishes, in part, I am indebted for that safe return; for not only did Mrs Tod, myself, and all the children we took away with us (five in number) return safely to you, but we brought back two more."

TO TAKE THE SCENT OUT OF CLOTHING — Sitting on the piazza of the Cataract was a young fop with his garments highly scented with musk and eclegne. A solemn-looking old man, after passing by the dandy several times, with a look of aversion which drew general notice, suddenly stopped, and in a confidential tone said:

"Stranger, I know what'll take that scent out of your clothes, you "

"What! what do you mean, sir?" said the exquisite, fired with indignation, starting from his chair.

"Oh, get mad, now—swear, pitch round, fight, just because a man wants to do you a kindness," coolly remarked the stranger "But I tell you I do know what will take out that smell—phew! You just bury your clothes—bury 'em a day or two Uncle Josh got afoul of a skunk, and he "

At this moment there went up such a simultaneous roar of merriment from the crowd that the dandy vanished up stairs

HALLECK ON POLITICIANS —Six hundred of the children of the public schools of St. Louis, lately invited Gen Halleck to a concert for the benefit of the poor He answered in a letter from which we clip this paragraph:

Corrupt politicians of the present day will probably, from self interest, continue to fan the flames of civil discord But our children should be taught that we are members of the same family, and that our country can never be permanently divided. We must instil into their minds those sentiments of fraternal affection and pure patriotism which alone can restore peace to our country, and eradicate all traces of the animosities which have been engendered by this unholy rebellion

HOW'S YOUR ASTERISK?—The "Congressional Directory," at the head of its alphabetical list of Senators and Representatives, says in brackets—"The asterisk (*) denotes those whose wives accompany them" This has given rise to the new slang word in Washington society, "How's your asterisk?" being the common inquiry for a Congressional wife's husband.

EFFECT OF DRINK —Old Deacon Billings, a staunch temperance man, having accidentally swallowed a rousing glass of gin, was asked how he felt after it "I felt as if I was settin on the roof of our meetin' house, and every shingle was a jew's-harp"

BROWN BREAD —Take one quart of warm water, one quart of white flour, two tablespoonfuls of hop yeast, one tablespoonful of salt, mix well, and set away to rise, uncovered When light, stir in with a spoon sufficient Graham flour to make a stiff dough—bake three-fourths of an hour To sweeten, add half a tea cup of syrup

PARSON BROWNLOW —The Boston Courier says of him

He is not unlike President Lincoln in personal form and proportion not, however, so tall When he sits down it is like the throwing of a coil of rope into a chair, and he uncoils himself like a boa constrictor when he rises He straightens himself up, gets his eye open, and when his jaws begin to move a succession of it will stand about the same chance in a fight that would fall to a sheep in the twist of an anaconda"

In New York, the Parson said:

"Less than twelve months ago, I heard the officers and active partisans of rebellion boast in my town, in Last Tennessee, that they would have Philadelphia and drink champagne in Wall street before frost came Instead of this I am happy to have it in my power to say they are using as a substitute the water of the frog ponds of Mississippi and Chickahominy Creek, as they retire from Corinth and York town, in search of the last ditch in which they are pledged to die"
